Memorial Park
On the lake level to mark something of a personal tribute, not only for those that lost lives for the survivors, sharing thoughts, beautiful memories, or to give their respective names to the past and to the possibilities of the future. More than just a signpost and a wall, Memorial Park is a place for people to connect and share their experiences.

Introduction
This information is a summary of the various issues that have emerged from the community after the devastating bushfires of 2019-2020. These are the issues that have been identified as a special place that Lake George could become a safe place for the recovery and healing process. It is a vision of a community that becomes more resilient, more inclusive and more sustainable than it ever has been.

It is a collection of generated needs, urgent matters, required and potential opportunities, an overarching plan that can be used to identify, implement, implement, and to develop the vision about a collection of community plans and connections. All to enhance and create a village and to care for the lake and each other.

New Connections
Focus on re-imagining the settlement as a resilient, interconnected community. A vision to result with a strategic and integrated map of life in the place.

Caravan Park Road Reimagining
This is aimed at providing a safe connection to the lake, connecting the lake and the heart of the whole community. This opportunity is to focus on the natural beauty that exists in the lake area and build on that through a series of plans to create a safe and beautiful place around the landscape park and also access for all in the future.

Link between Conyca Park and Lake George
A defined, adequately constructed pedestrian path to both walking trail that runs the afternoon village would create a new layer of use of the village for recreation, recreation for inspiration. Other through the path along the road of water along the western edge - a nature trail route after a multitude of opportunities.

Access to the Australian coastline is high priority. Most like this for general use as the walking trail to the north side and one of the great shared public experiences of Australia. Not all residents have the same access to the lake side. If you are considering to build in the lake side, a path that connects to the lake side and to the water is a high priority. A path that connects to the lake side and to the water is a high priority. A path that connects to the lake side and to the water is a high priority.

Along the lake edge an amenity path - walking, sitting and playing with accessible and safe children, picnic spots on site with the view, space for fishing, birdwatching, or just sitting. A carefully constructed path could link the community, in time going to other parts of the lake, and on.

Link to Narrabeen
A path from Conyca Park to Lake George would make the lake more than a connection. Not only to the north but also to the south. The lake is a connection to the north and the south. The lake is a connection to the north and the south. The lake is a connection to the north and the south.

The north and the lake and the heart of the whole community. This opportunity is to focus on the natural beauty that exists in the lake area and build on that through a series of plans to create a safe and beautiful place around the landscape park and also access for all in the future.
